FREMONT, CA: SIGNiX, a provider of independent, cloud-based e-signatures solutions that make signing documents online secure and legal, recently announced that the company has strengthened its association with the real estate partner zipLogix. zipLogix is a technology company working for real estate professionals to improve productivity and efficiency industry wide. The deepened and renewed partnership is aimed at broadening the access to secure, easy-to-use e-signature technology at a low cost to real estate organizations and professionals across the country.

Since the beginning of the partnership dating five years back, zipLogix Digital Ink, powered by SIGNiX technology, has become one of the best e-signature solutions for real estate professionals.

Reviving the collaboration, SIGNiX and zipLogix have committed for a three year strategic agreement to continue extending the Independent E-Signature integration into zipLogix Digital Ink software for real estate associations and real estate professionals.

SIGNiX e-signatures provide independently verifiable evidence of the intent to sign along with information about when documents are viewed, when users are authenticated and more. Further, all documents and all versions of the documents are tamper evidence.

“Because the evidence backing a SIGNiX e-signature is embedded in the signed document, with no need to link back to SIGNiX, there is no expiration date on the signature. It can be validated in five, 10, 25 years or more,” says Jay Jumper, President and CEO, SIGNiX. The level of document ownership, legal validity and security is exactly what the paper-intensive real estate industry requires to mitigate any unanticipated risks of the digital environment.

“zipLogic was one of our earliest partners and continues to be an outstanding accelerator and advocate of automation, including e-signatures, in the real estate industry,” says Jumper. “We are honored to continue our relationship with zipLogic, the clear industry leader. In five years, we’ve built a strong foundation, and through continued product development, we are now positioned to grow the customer base significantly in the coming months and years.”
